Please see for detailed information on this our website at Application Deadlines.

Applicants coming from countries subject to visa requirements should apply for a visa as soon as possible since it often takes several month for a visa to be issued!!

In regard to visa, the DAAD recommends not to wait until you receive confirmation of an university place, as the notice of admission arrives usually very late in Germany. Please contact the German Embassy in your home town as soon as possible and ask for information regarding the visa requirements as well as for advice about the two visa options: "applicant visa" or a "student visa".

2. Prepare all required application documents (scan these and save each document as one multi-page PDF (max. 5 MB) in order to upload them in the master application system.

Please note : A pdf is by nature a simple (digital) copy. Thus it does not matter if the scanned document is the original document, the certified copy of the original or the simple copy of the original! Of course, it goes without saying that it has to be visible that the scanned document(s) (i.e. high school, university, language certificates etc.) are no "self-made document". This means that you have to make the digital copy of the official documents given to you by the issuing institution or other body. In this way on the digital copy the stamp(s) and signature(s) of the issuing institution or other body is/are visible!

3. Upload your documents in their original language. Please note: If your certificates are not issued in German or English, make sure to upload also an Psychology!! There the deadline for receipt of the signed "Application form" by regular mail is at the latest on 31 May!)

For applicants coming from countries subject to visa requirements: Please, apply early enough, since visa processing can take several months and you won't be able to enter the country without a valid visa. Please, read the information the DAAD has provided at its website at "Applying for the correct Visa".

Application for admission to a higher programme semester:

The precondition in order to enter the desired master programme in a higher semester is that credits and grades gained in the same or in another masters programme at a German or foreign university can be recognised for the masters programme in Jena.

Application for a higher semester takes place either through a change of university or through a change of master degree programme.

Procedure:

In order to apply for a higher programme semester two review procedures have to be performed:

1. Review of the applicant's general academic eligibility.
2. Review of the academic performance in regard to placement in a higher programme semester.

• 1st application step: Review of the applicant's general academic eligibility

If you apply for a higher programme semester, you have to fulfil all general entry requirements. Hence the first application step has to be made - analogous to the application for admission to the beginning of a masters programme (=1st programme semester) - via our Online-Application-System.

Please note, the application deadlines are the same for applications to the 1st semester of a masters programme as to an advanced semester.

Difference: In order to apply for admission to a higher programme semester, applicants have to upload one further document, on which the application for admission to a higher programme semester is based. This is usually the certificate of study or a corresponding document showing that you are enrolled currently in a corresponding masters programme.

Once your application has been reviewed by the admission committee and you were considered suitable in regard to your general academic eligibility for the masters programme, you will get detailed information on the 2nd application step, which is necessary to get an admission to a higher programme semester.

• 2nd application step: Review of the applicant's academic performance in regard to placement in a higher programme semester

At this point the examination office of the corresponding masters programme has to review whether you are eligible to join a higher programme semester or not. Therefore the examination office needs further documents. We will inform you right after a positive decision in the 1st application step, on what to do next.

Master programmes with different rules and/or deadlines:

 Please note that the following programmes have their own application procedures, in which different rules and/or deadlines apply:

German taught programmes:

- M.A. Cultural Management
- M.A. Music Studies
- MBA Sports Management

English taught programme:

- M.Sc. Photonics

 Be sure to read the programme descriptions carefully to ensure that you fulfil all requirements and that you apply in the required way.

Admission procedure:

Once we, the Master Service Centre, have received the mandatory signed "Application form for Master Application at the Friedrich Schiller University Jena" we check your application online in regard to the formal requirements. If the documents are complete it will be forwarded to the corresponding admission committee. If not, you will be informed by email and given the possibility to upload the missing document within a given timeframe.

For detailed information on how to complete a correct application read the information given at Step by step: Your online application.

Complete applications will be forwarded to the relevant admission committee, where the application will be evaluated.

Those students who meet the requirements and expectations of the respective admissions committee will be granted admission. You will then receive an admission letter along with the information on the enrolment documents and the further steps sent by email and conventional post.

If you did not meet the entry requirements and the admission committee's decision is hence a "rejection", you can see the notification "rejection letter sent" in your online-application-account. You will get the official rejection letter (only) by regular post.

Steps after being admitted:

Accepting the study place:

In order to accept the offered study place you have to send the Statement of Acceptance.

This form as well as further relevant information on the enrolment procedure will be sent by email and conventional post along with the admission letter.

- General Enrolment Documents
- Thoskaform \(German/English\)

Format of the enrolment documents:

All copies of original academic (e.g. school leaving licence, university degree certificate(s) etc.) documents must be certified as true copies of the original. This means that the copies must be stamped and signed by the issuing institution, or a notary public.

Certified copies:

A certified copy is a copy of a document which is issued or legally attested by public authorities (e.g. a notary, the embassy etc.). Copies of official documents do not have to be notarized mandatorily by the German Embassy. An apostil as proof of authenticity is not required.

In order to certify document copies, you must present both the original and copy of the document to the person carrying out the certification. Each copy and page must be certified separately and clearly indicate: the signature of the certifying officer, the stamp of the issuing institution or notary public, which usually includes an emblem. .

Documents certified by the issuing institution must be issued through and certified by a representative of the Academic Registrar's Office, the Examinations Office, or the equivalent office that issues degrees and official transcripts of records at your university. Certification by other staff, such as faculty or college staff members, is not acceptable.

Enrolment:

Detailed information on the enrolment procedure can be found in the Enrolment Guide at <http://www.uni-jena.de/en/enrolmentguide.html> provided by the International Office of the Friedrich Schiller University Jena.

We highly suggest to use the website of the International Office, which provides helpful information in regard to "preparation for Jena", "enrolment procedures" and "the orientation and welcome programme

The FSU International Office estimates a total amount of €3,800 per semester, which can be broken down as follows.

Tuition fees: The FSU does not charge tuition fees. Instead, students must pay a Student Services Fee per semester (<http://www.uni-jena.de/Semesterbeitrag.html>) in order to be officially enrolled. This includes a "semester ticket" that allows you to use all public transportation in Jena and the surrounding areas for free. Students in their first semester will be charged €20 more for the creation of a student identity card, or THOSKA.

Living expenses: We advise students to have a minimum amount of €600 per month at their disposal for day-to-day costs such as food, rent, etc. This is comparatively affordable, as it costs much more to live in other regions of Germany.

Course materials: Each semester, you will be expected to buy books and perhaps other materials for your study programme. These may cost €150 or more, depending on the type of programme you are in.

Health insurance: All students in Germany must have full health insurance coverage. Assuming your home country does not have a bilateral agreement for the recognition of your national health insurance and you are under 30 years of age, you can purchase coverage for just under 60 Euros per month (total: €350 per semester).

Travel costs: It is up to you to calculate the cost of travel from your place of residence to Germany. As this depends on your home country, we have not included the amount in our estimate above. For your information, a train trip from either Frankfurt or Berlin to Jena costs approximately €60.

4. Questions regarding the APS

Applicants with an university degree from China, Vietnam or Mongolia have to have their higher education entrance qualification and grade certificates checked and recognized by the Academic Verification Office (APS) in their native country. The procedure may vary depending on whether they are still in their native country or already in Germany. For more detailed information, contact the relevant APS.

Please try to get the APS certificate early enough, possibly before applying for a masters programme, since the evaluation procedure at the Academic Verification Office (APS) may take several weeks, and you will not be able to apply in due time without the APS certificate.

1. My APS will be issued only after the Application Deadline has expired. Can I nevertheless apply?

We suggest to apply with all the other required documents for the application, but instead of uploading the mandatory APS to upload a declaration that you will submit the APS certificate as soon as possible (please enter an approximate date).

Please note: We cannot forward your application to the admission committee as long you have not uploaded the APS. Hence the later you upload this mandatory document, the later your application will be reviewed by the committee. A late review will consequently lead to a late decision.

5. Question regarding the Visa application

1. I need an early admission because of the visa

Since, over 80% of the applicants for English taught masters programmes are coming from countries subject to visa requirements, it is not possible to speed up the process for particular applications. Documents are processed, and decisions are made as soon as possible!

We suggest applicants coming from countries subject to visa requirements to submit their application early enough, since visa processing can take several months and you won't be able to enter the country without a valid visa.

The type of visa you need depends on whether you have already received your notification of admission from a German university. (Do not enter the country as a tourist! A tourist visa cannot be converted to a student visa or student applicant visa!). For detailed information please see the website of the DAAD at Visa application.

2. Can I apply for a tourist visa and then change it to a student visa after arrival?

No, you cannot! Since tourist visas cannot be converted into a student visa. With the wrong visa, you will be forced to leave the country at some point and apply for the correct visa at home.

Please read the information the DAAD has provided at his website at "Applying for the correct Visa".

2. I have been admitted but cannot attend the programme this year after all. Can I defer my admission offer?

It is not possible to postpone the admission granted for one application turnus to the, since it is the decision of the admission committee whether your admission will be reaffirmed. In order to get a new admission, you have to go through the online application again, where you have to upload all required application documents as you did already in the last application period. Please note, however, you have to upload also the current admission letter for your application so that the admission committee can see that you were judged already as eligible.

3. What should I do in order to be enrolled?

You will get the information with regard to the enrollment procedure along with the admission letter both by email and conventional post.

However, the general procedure is as follows:

7. Standards of official certifications?

Official certifications must always contain an original official stamp and an original signature of the issuing authority. A copy or scan of your officially certified documentation will not be sufficient. A copy can only ever be officially certified, if it bears the original certifying stamp!

The official stamp may be round or oval in shape, and will contain a coat-of-arms. It is not sufficient if certifications bear only a stamp containing only words.

With document copies comprising multiple pages, it must be apparent that each page originates from the same official certification. The official stamp must be visible on each page: The pages must be arranged in such a way that each page is embossed with part of the official stamp. It is sufficient if the endorsement is set out and undersigned on one page only.

Exception: With a certification performed by a notary (with cord and seal imprint), it is sufficient for the certification declaration to be set out on one page only.

Outside Germany, the following institutions may certify their documents:

- schools and universities issuing the documents,
- the Ministry of Education of your home Country,
- German embassies,
- the cultural department of the embassy of the country from where the certificate originates,
- the authorities and notaries authorised to perform official certifications in your home country.

8. Standards for certified translations?

We will accept translations of certificates issued by the following:

- sworn translators
- outside of Germany, institutions may only assume the translation of certificates, if these are entitled to prepared sworn or court-approved translations.

Important:

You must also arrange the certification of copies of translations.

Exception: You do not need an additional certification, if the translation bears the original stamp of the translator.

However, translators may not certify any documents in the original language - rather only the translations they have personally produced.

9. Standards for the language of official certificates (school, university, language certificates)?

Submit your certificates in their original language - together with a German or English translation. If in your country of origin, alongside the original language, your certificates were also officially issued in German or English, then we do not require a translation.

Important: Certificates in French must be translated into German or English.
